

Love of our lives

Create a yacht like no other. Thus came the simple wish from a couple well-versed in the world of boating. With a commitment that matched their expertise, both husband and wife were involved with design and production, from start to finish. The result? An elegant, modern — yet classic — profile with an exquisite ‘home-by-the-sea’ interior. Perhaps the most sophisticated and high-tech yacht to travel the world’s oceans. Certainly, a yacht like no other.

TWIZZLE

LUXURY. SECURITY. ADVENTURE "We wanted a boat that could take us around the world in complete comfort and safety," says the owner. "While the engineering had to be perfect, the boat had to look stunning, too." The couple had previously built three boats in Italy, but Twizzle was their first Dutch project. "We looked at other options but frankly, there was no competition."

We built a Feadship to travel around the world and see amazing things.
THE OWNERS OF TWIZZLE

SIX-STAR HOME "The interior style very much resembles our home. We didn't want a floating palace," says the owner. "Our aim was to create a refined environment that could serve as a holiday house anywhere in the world. I think we achieved this goal."

Still, even though the Twizzle was not initially intended for commercial use, the catering facilities are superb. Up to ten guests travel in luxury, while 14 crew members have their own well-planned quarters.

FIRST THE LOOK With a conventional blueprint, the interior is designed around the joinery. The Twizzle, of course, is anything but conventional. With a crystal clear idea of the look they wanted to achieve, the owners developed the decorative brief first, then the joinery was planned to accommodate that arrangement. Each and every fitting — whether for a special lamp or a distinctive piece of furniture — was considered to create the Twizzle's unique character.

ENDURING. ENDEARING. COMFORTABLY MODERN. The Twizzle's interior typifies the 21st Century Feadship philosophy. With a style that's come to be expected at the most fashionable London addresses, but still unusual on the sea, the owners have created a resolutely contemporary, yet surprisingly warm and rich, interior. From quaint lamps from Parisian antiquaries to smart American design objects, each component reflects and strengthens the mood of life aboard the Twizzle.

RICH FINISHES. UNEXPECTED ORIENTATION Finishes aboard the Twizzle were meticulously planned. A special testing program analyzed the effect of different varnishes on the vessel's rich walnut paneling, as well as the effect of sunlight on the wood. Then, the designers played with different orientations for the walnut grain, to add variety and surprise. The fusion of the warmth of the walnut, carefully balanced with teak, sensual cream fabrics and precious marbles throughout the cabins, recreates the sense of a timeless, yet modern, beach house.

NEXT GENERATION TECHNOLOGY State-of-the-art was just the starting point for the technical systems aboard the Twizzle. At first glance, the streamlined wheelhouse seems to hold only seven touch-operated control screens, two electronic chart tables and a central console for steering and autopilot. But the minimalist-look control center for the vessel holds the maximum in technology.

ACCESSIBLE, NOT VISIBLE All non-essential details, dials and controls are cleverly concealed in cabinets aft of the bridge or under stylish leather cabinets. Next generation monitoring and control systems are integrated into the design. Here again, the owners' hands-on approach to the look, feel and quality of the technology onboard the Twizzle is apparent in every angle of the layout.
